

Note: The party-colored bars represent the percentage of candidates with a Twitter account, while the grey bars indicate the percentage without one.