Note: The party−colored bars represent the percentage of candidates with a Twitter account, while the grey bars indicate the percentage without one.